Business & Technical Solution Consultant | CDP, CRM & Data Integration

SUMMARY

Business and Technical Solution Consultant with 6+ years of hands-on experience in IT and enterprise technologies, delivering international projects in banking, telecommunications, pharma and other industries. I connect business needs with technical delivery – from analysis and solution design through to implementation. I am used to managing several projects in parallel. Alongside my IT career, I also work professionally in graphic and web design, bringing a creative and visual dimension to the UI/UX design side of my projects.

I continuously develop my skills through certifications on both the business and the technical side – from business and data analysis to technical and platform-specific skills. My current focus is AI, where I am deepening my technical knowledge across several areas – from generative AI and large language models to AI agents, predictive analytics and AI-driven personalisation.
